

Cambodia Tunnel Bridge

Overview

Scheduled for completion in May 2025, this 90-meter-high and 1.6-kilometer-long bridge will mark a new era for Cambodian infrastructure and boost economic development in the surrounding area. This will undoubtedly be a turning point for the Kingdom of Cambodia. This table presents a non-exhaustive list of the road and railway bridges with spans greater than 100 metres (328 ft) or total lengths longer than 500 metres (1,640 ft). Also called Cambodian-Japanese Friendship Bridge, it was severely damaged. A new Chinese-funded bridge across the Mekong River in Kratie province is set to open for temporary use during the Pchum Ben Festival in September, following the completion of 96 percent of its construction. With the recent installation of the final girder, this engineering masterpiece stands as a symbol of progress, ready to transform traffic flow on the national highway that will connect. The Funan Techo Canal (Khmer: បឹងទន្លេសាប), officially known as the Tonle Bassac Navigation Road and Logistics System Project is a 180-kilometre (110 mi) long canal under construction in Cambodia, connecting Phnom Penh Autonomous Port with Kep and the Gulf of Thailand. Funan is a name. (250310) -- PHNOM PENH, March 10, 2025 (Xinhua) -- A drone photo taken on March 9, 2025 shows Cambodia's tallest bridge project in Pursat province, Cambodia.
