FibraMarket is a specialized Mexican distributor with over 20 years of experience, providing fiber optic cables, connectors, jumpers, pigtailed, and fusion splicers. They offer tailored solutions for businesses and telecom operators, emphasizing competitive pricing and comprehensive support for network deployment. Fibramerica engineers and manufactures fiber optic infrastructure for telecom operators, ISPs, and system integrators. Their catalog includes preconnectorized assemblies, ADSS, ASU, drop and armored cables, splitters, couplers, adapters, WDM modules, and FTTH termination boxes. They also provide professional tools and accessories for installation and maintenance, enabling faster deployment with minimal field splicing. Fibremex focuses on the distribution of products for fiber optic network installation, structured cabling, and telecommunications across Mexico. They supply connectors, cables, and related equipment for both indoor and outdoor applications. MaxFiber manufactures and distributes fiber optic equipment and materials, including fusion splicers and OTDR devices. They emphasize high-quality telecommunications solutions and maintenance services for fiber optic networks. Optronics offers customized fiber optic and structured cabling solutions, with rigorous mechanical testing and up to 25 years of warranty. They provide training for certified integrators and support for network certification and deployment.
