

Middle East Trough-type Fireproof Cable Tray Manufacturer

AI Overview

Leading manufacturers in the Middle East for trough-type fireproof cable trays include West Port Cable Tray, Bonn Metal Construction Industries, Delta Cable Trays, and Unigroup, all offering ISO-certified, high-performance solutions for industrial and commercial projects.

Key Manufacturers

- 1. West Port Cable Tray (UAE) West Port specializes in high-performance cable containment systems, including perforated, ladder, and trough-type trays. Their products are designed to meet IEC 61537, NEMA VE1, and BS EN 50085 standards, ensuring fire resistance and durability in harsh Middle Eastern climates. They serve sectors such as oil & gas, data centers, marine, and construction, with a state-of-the-art manufacturing facility equipped with CNC machines and galvanized coating lines for corrosion and fire protection.
- 2. Bonn Metal Construction Industries LLC (BMCI, UAE) BMCI produces a wide range of cable trays, including fireproof and industrial-grade trough trays, with a production capacity of 7,500 tons annually. Their products comply with British and international standards, and they provide tailored solutions for energy, oil & gas, and industrial facilities across the MENA region. BMCI emphasizes precision engineering, crack prevention, and durability, making them a reliable choice for large-scale projects.
- 3. Delta Cable Trays (UAE) Delta, operating under TransDelta International Industries LLC, is a pioneering manufacturer of cable management systems in the Middle East. They offer trough-type, ladder, and GRP cable trays with fireproof coatings and ISO 9001:2015 certification. Delta has supplied major projects like the Dubai Metro, Etihad Rail, and international airports, demonstrating expertise in high-load, fire-resistant cable containment.
- 4. Unigroup (UAE) Unigroup manufactures trough, ladder, and wire mesh cable trays with advanced fire and corrosion resistance, inclu...
