

Nepal-made spectrometer

AI Overview

Spectrophotometers in Nepal are widely available through specialized suppliers like Laboid International, JHS Analytic Traders, and online platforms such as Daraz, offering a range of UV-VIS, NIR, and double-beam instruments for research, industrial, and clinical applications. Availability and Suppliers Nepal has several reputable suppliers and manufacturers of spectrophotometers. Laboid International is a leading manufacturer and exporter, providing precision laboratory instruments including spectrophotometers for scientific research, industrial applications, and clinical diagnostics . JHS Analytic Traders offers advanced UV-VIS-NIR double-beam spectrophotometers, suitable for molecular analysis, concentration measurement, and quality control across laboratories . Additionally, online marketplaces like Daraz Nepal provide a variety of spectrophotometers for convenient purchase .

Types and Features

Spectrophotometers in Nepal include:

- UV-VIS Spectrophotometers: Measure absorbance in ultraviolet and visible ranges, ideal for protein quantification, enzyme kinetics, and nucleic acid purity assessment .
- NIR Spectrophotometers: Cover near-infrared wavelengths for thin-film measurement, optical material characterization, and pharmaceutical research .
- Double-beam Spectrophotometers: Provide higher accuracy and stability by comparing sample and reference beams simultaneously .

Key specifications to consider include wavelength range (190–3300 nm), spectral bandwidth, photometric accuracy, and stray light performance .

Applications

Spectrophotometers in Nepal are used in:

- Pharmaceutical and clinical research: Drug concentration, dissolution profiles, and biochemical assays .
- Water and environmental testing: Colorimetric analysis of nitrate, phosphate, and chlorine in drinking and wastewater .
- Industrial quality control: Raw material identification and concentration verification in chemical manufacturing .
- Life sciences: Protein quantification, enzyme kinetics, and nucleic acid purity assessment .
