

North Asia Aluminum Plant Cable Tray Manufacturer

AI Overview

Leading aluminum cable tray manufacturers in North Asia include KDM, NewReach, and several top Chinese suppliers offering ISO-certified, corrosion-resistant, and customizable solutions.

Key Manufacturers

- 1. KDM Aluminum Cable Tray (China) KDM specializes in high-quality aluminum cable trays, including ladder, perforated, solid bottom, and channel types. Their products are fabricated from corrosion-resistant materials, powder-coated for durability, and designed for easy installation. KDM trays are ISO9001 certified and available in various sizes and dimensions, making them suitable for industrial, commercial, and outdoor applications. They offer lightweight solutions that simplify handling and installation while maintaining robust cable protection and organization.
- 2. NewReach Aluminum Cable Tray (China) NewReach provides aluminum cable trays with high loading capacity and excellent corrosion resistance, ideal for harsh environments such as coastal regions and industrial facilities. Their trays are non-magnetic, reducing electromagnetic interference, which is critical for data centers and sensitive electrical installations. NewReach trays are crafted from durable aluminum alloys (including 6063), steel Q235, stainless steel 204/304/316, or fiber-reinforced plastic, offering flexibility for diverse project requirements. They emphasize quick installation, safety, and long-term performance.
- 3. Other Notable Chinese Manufacturers China hosts several other leading cable tray producers, such as Shanghai Sintray Industries, Wuxi City Qiaobang Storage Equipment, and ApexTray. These companies provide durable, corrosion-resistant trays suitable for telecommunications, construction, and industrial projects. Many adhere to ISO and UL standards, offering customizable solutions for complex installations.
