

Outdoor server racks in Congo available now

AI Overview

Several companies provide outdoor server racks in Congo, including AZE Telecom, Unisol Communications, and local distributors listed in business directories. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

1. AZE Telecom AZE Telecom specializes in outdoor weatherproof cabinets and waterproof server racks, designed to protect electronics and servers from rain, dust, humidity, and extreme temperatures. Their products include floor-standing and wall-mounted enclosures made from stainless steel, galvanized steel, polycarbonate, and aluminum. They offer customizable solutions with OEM/ODM support, ventilation, cable management, and robust security features, making them suitable for telecom and industrial applications in harsh outdoor environments.
2. Unisol Communications Unisol provides durable outdoor racks for telecom, utilities, and other industries requiring outdoor equipment housing. Their racks are engineered to withstand extreme weather conditions, including rain, snow, dust, and heat. They offer floor-standing and wall-mounted options, integrated cable management, enhanced cooling and ventilation, and secure locking mechanisms. Unisol has over 20 years of experience and provides tailored solutions, including consultation, installation, and post-installation support.
3. Local Suppliers and Distributors For locally available options, business directories like Afrikta DRC Congo list companies that may supply or distribute server racks and related equipment in Congo. These directories include a variety of businesses in IT and telecom sectors, which can help identify regional distributors or manufacturers for outdoor server racks. Additionally, platforms like Europages provide listings for suppliers of explosion-proof and specialized server racks in Congo, which may be relevant for industrial or high-risk environments.
