

Price of Factory Distribution Box Mounting Bracket

AI Overview

The price of a factory distribution box mounting bracket varies widely depending on material, size, and supplier, typically ranging from a few dollars to over $50 per unit.

Overview Factory distribution box mounting brackets are hardware components used to securely attach distribution boxes to walls, panels, or other structures. They can be made from steel, aluminum, or durable plastics and may include features such as slotted holes for adjustment, corrosion-resistant coatings, or compatibility with specific distribution box models. Brackets are available in L-shaped, Z-shaped, or custom designs depending on installation requirements.

Pricing Factors

- Material: Steel or stainless steel brackets are generally more expensive than plastic or aluminum options due to strength and durability.
- Size and Load Capacity: Larger brackets designed to support heavy distribution boxes cost more.
- Supplier and Quantity: Prices vary between distributors like DigiKey, MISUMI, ETTINGER, and Mouser. Bulk orders often reduce per-unit cost.
- Special Features: Brackets with adjustable slots, locking mechanisms, or corrosion-resistant coatings may increase the price.

Example Price Ranges

- Plastic mounting brackets for small junction boxes: approximately $2–$10 per unit.
- Metal brackets for industrial distribution boxes: approximately $10–$50 per unit, depending on size and finish.
- Custom or heavy-duty brackets for large factory installations may exceed $50 per unit.

How to Obtain Current Prices

- DigiKey: Offers a large selection of mounting brackets with online pricing and same-day shipping.
- MISUMI: Allows configuration of brackets with CAD data and provides pricing based on specifications.
- Mouser Electronics: Lists distribution box enclosures and compatible mounting brackets with inventory and pricing.
- Manufacturer Direct: Companies like Yueqing Xianglang Electric Co., Ltd. provide plastic junction box mo...
