

Swiss Exchange Desk Desktop Type

AI Overview

Swiss Exchange trading setups can involve either virtual desktops like DeskSecurium or ergonomic physical desks such as the Tradingzone GO Swiss. Virtual Desktop Solutions For traders requiring secure, flexible access to the Swiss Exchange, DeskSecurium offers a fully virtualized desktop environment hosted in a European data center. Key features include: Choice of Windows or Linux desktops, with multiple desktops available per account. Simultaneous multi-user access, allowing colleagues to log in without interrupting each other. Access via a web browser from any device, providing flexibility for remote or office-based trading. Centralized management through a control center, enabling administrators to manage users and sessions efficiently. High data protection and privacy, leveraging Switzerland's strong legal framework for personal data security. This virtual desktop type is particularly suited for traders who need secure, scalable, and location-independent access to trading platforms like SWXess. Physical Trading Desks For traders preferring a dedicated physical workspace, the Tradingzone GO Swiss is a modern sit/stand desk designed for trading environments. Its features include: Height-adjustable motorized frame (64-130 cm) with memory settings for preferred positions. Load capacity up to 100 kg, supporting multiple monitors and trading equipment. Melamine resin veneered tabletop and robust steel frame for durability. Cable management tray to maintain a tidy setup. Collision protection ensures safety when adjusting desk height. This type of desk emphasizes ergonomics, health, and productivity, making it ideal for long trading sessions in a physical office. Connectivity Considerations Regardless of desktop type, traders connecting to the SIX Swiss Exchange SWXess platform can choose from multiple connectivity options: SIX Common Access Portal (SCAP) for scalable, secure VPN access. Co-location services for ultra-low latency trading. Microwave or fiber connections linking major financial hubs like Zurich, London, Frankfurt, and Mil...
