

Syrian Lighting Distribution Box Manufacturer

AI Overview

Hovag and Moonlight Trading Company are among the leading suppliers of lighting distribution boxes and electrical solutions in Syria. Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

Hovag is a prominent supplier in the Syrian market, offering a wide range of electrical products including low-voltage power distribution systems, main and secondary panels, circuit breakers, and busbar trunking systems. They provide complete solutions for industrial, commercial, and residential projects, including interior and exterior lighting, home automation, and UPS systems. Hovag has experience supplying major projects such as hospitals and universities, ensuring compliance with international standards and type-tested equipment (Hovag).

Moonlight Trading Company specializes in importing and supplying lighting and electrical products, including LED fixtures, switches, sockets, and MCBs. They have a strong presence across Syria with local warehouses, technical support, and fast delivery services. Moonlight has historically partnered with international brands like Philips Lighting, ensuring high-quality products for both residential and commercial applications (Moonlight Trading Company).

B2B Directories and Marketplaces list additional Syrian manufacturers and suppliers of construction site outdoor power distribution boxes. These platforms provide contact information for wholesalers and manufacturers, allowing direct inquiries for bulk orders or project-specific solutions (Europages).

Other Local Companies include trading and contracting firms that import and supply electromechanical equipment, including low, medium, and high-voltage distribution systems. Examples include Kazhlawi Co and ARNABEH Co, which handle electrical distribution and lighting solutions for industrial and commercial projects (List of Lighting Companies in Syria).
