

Warranty on AOC Active Optical Cable 40G

AI Overview

40G QSFP+ Active Optical Cables (AOC) are typically offered with either a lifetime warranty or a 5-year warranty, depending on the vendor and product model. Warranty Overview by VendorFS.com provides a lifetime warranty on their 40G QSFP+ AOC products, reflecting their commitment to long-term reliability and performance. Customers are encouraged to contact FS.com for detailed warranty terms and support. RoboFiber offers a 5-year warranty for their 10m QSFP+ 40G AOC cables, covering compatibility with major networking vendors such as Cisco, Juniper, HP, and Edge-Core. Optcore also provides a 5-year warranty along with a money-back guarantee for 40G QSFP+ AOC cables ranging from 1 to 100 meters, ensuring coverage for defects and performance issues. Approved Networks lists their 40G QSFP+ AOC cables with a limited lifetime warranty, emphasizing carrier-grade quality and compatibility with over 90 switch and server OEMs. HPC Optics offers a lifetime warranty on their Extreme 40G-AOC-QSFP3M 3m cables, guaranteeing long-term support for high-speed multimode fiber connections.

Key Considerations

Warranty Type: Lifetime warranties generally cover the product for its usable life, while fixed-term warranties (e.g., 5 years) provide coverage for a defined period.

Coverage: Most warranties cover manufacturing defects, signal integrity issues, and compatibility failures under normal usage conditions.

Vendor Support: Warranty claims typically require contacting the vendor or authorized distributor, and some may require proof of purchase.

Product Length and Model: Warranty terms can vary depending on cable length and specific product series, so it is important to verify the warranty for the exact model being purchased. In summary, buyers of 40G QSFP+ AOC cables can expect either a lifetime or 5-year warranty, with coverage generally including defec...
